Motivation

The Wonscore Motivation Test helps pinpoint an individual's motivational drivers in order to better identify candidates who can thrive in a given role. When interests and job duties align, research shows that people are more likely to be motivated by their work. That inspiration can lead to higher levels of job satisfaction, career stability, and performance. These results will help you determine if this role is likely to get your candidates out of bed in the morning.

Welcome

This activity consists of 150 statements. You must respond to every statement. This activity is not timed, but typically takes about 15 minutes to complete. At any point during the test you can go back and review any of your answers. Read each statement and choose the response that best describes you. Consider the statement in the following example:

1. I often like to watch team games.

Agree

Neither Agree nor Disagree

Disagree

If you agree with this statement, then you would click "Agree." If you disagree with this statement, then you would click "Disagree." Avoid choosing "Neither Agree nor Disagree." Choose this response only when absolutely none of the other options work for you.

Please respond candidly. It is important that you be as careful and honest as you can, and give responses that describe you best. Don't choose a response because it describes the way that you might like to be.

This activity has a scale to identify individuals who give inaccurate or false responses. Test takers with a high score on this scale may be eliminated from the selection process.
